

Sock Monkeys (c) 2006 Hans Mayer & Frank Gosar

Sun shines in like a golden jewel
Mom says time to get up for school
Jeans and t-shirt wait for me
Open my sock drawer, what do I see?

It's full of sock monkeys, playing there
Sock monkeys rolling in my underwear
Hooting and shrieking, by the pair
Sock monkeys everywhere

Such a nice day what'll I do?
Think I'll go down to the zoo
Where's the lions, where's the bears?
The only animals I see there are

Sock monkeys, oh what fun
Watch them tumble, watch them run
Swing from vines without a care
Sock monkeys everywhere!

I'm tired out from the day I had
Say goodnight to Mom and Dad
Mom bends down for a goodnight kiss
She's got bright red knitted lips

Oh it's a sock monkey, not my Mom
Where in heaven has she gone?
Monkeys here and monkeys there
Sock Monkeys everywhere!

My eyes pop open, I let out a scream
It was all just a terrible dream
Pull up the covers, rolled over in bed
There on the pillow by my head

It was my sock monkey, my best friend
Bright red wool on either end
Friendly as a teddy bear
