

The Ants' Great Escape (c) 1997 Hans Mayer

The ants broke out of their farm today - oh what will I do?
Step on one, it might rain - I'll have to catch them soon
They're everywhere, they're in my hair
I hope they're not in my underwear
The ants broke out of their farm today - oh what will I do?

The ants broke out of their farm today - I'll have to catch 'em one by one
It's turned into a little game - I'm having lots of fun
They flew the coup they busted loose
They're swimming in my bowl of soup

The ant's broke out of their farm today - I'll have to catch them soon
I know they just came out to play - Mom gives me the broom Open the door - sweep the floor - she doesn't want ants in the house anymore
The ants broke out of their farm today and they won't be back too soon
