

The Traveling Song (c) 1987 Hans Mayer & Frank Gosar

Dad says we gotta leave early in the morning
Mom says we're lucky if we're gone by ten
Finally get the station wagon started down the driveway
Oops, forgot the dog, so we go back again

Sitting in the back seat reading my comic book
Fighting with my brothers as we roll along
Watching those flies go buzzing at the window
Singing this traveling song

Bobby's counting license plates looking for Alasksa
Mike's by the window so that he can't see
I say I'm hungry Mom, when do we get breakfast
Mary says she has to go immediately

Sitting in the back seat...

Mom says look out the window at the scenery
Dad says baby horses, take a look
We're too busy to be watching the greenery
Fighting with the dog for the coloring book

Sitting in the back seat...

Mary sang herself to sleep somewhere Kansas
Bobby and Mike are as quite as can be
I'm still sway with my nose against the window
Watching the moon rising over the trees

Sitting in the back seat...