

Captain Courageous

by Hans Mayer & Frank Gosar

*Captain Courageous, beam down for a minute,
Your dinner is waiting, your chair needs you in it.
Go orbit the bathroom and wash up your face;
It gets pretty dirty while you're out in space.*

I seek out new planets, new worlds to explore,
I boldly go where no kid's gone before.
I've discovered new life-forms, a hundred at least,
Like the giant ferocious wild puppy-dog beast.

Captain! (Captain!) Captain Courageous!
Captain! (Captain!) Captain Courageous!

I'm the hottest star-fighter that's ever shipped out,
I take on the empire and win every bout.
I've skimmed o'er their fortress and blown it away,
And I do it again just about every day.

Captain...

Yeah, I've met some aliens, now and again.
Some of my best friends are little green men,
And great shaggy creatures with dozens of eyes,
Who treat me just like I was one of the guys.

Captain...

I've seen Halley's Comet, I've landed on Mars;
I've visited all the more interesting stars.
I've traveled the light-years from Rigel to Perth,
But I always come back to my home here on Earth.

Captain...
